

MALE HEALTH EDUCATOR TRAINING INSTITUTE (MHETI)

FACULTY BIOS

David Bell, MD, MPH is an Assistant Clinical Professor of Pediatrics and Populations and Family Health at Columbia University Medical Center. He is the medical director of The Young Men's Clinic, a component of the Center for Community Health and Educations within the Columbia University's Mailman School of Public Health. Dr. Bell has focused on male health issues, particularly male sexual and reproductive health and is an adolescent medicine specialist, providing care primarily to adolescents and young adults.

Rick Brown is the director of the Family Life Council of Greater Greensboro's nationally recognized Wise Guys Program. Under his leadership the program has grown from a local service for teen males, parents and educators in Guilford County, NC to a National resource currently implemented in over 350 communities in 32 states nationwide. Mr. Brown conducts trainings for professionals around the country in implementing the Wise Guys program and workshops on topics regarding males and sexuality.

Hector J. Campos is the CEO for Campos Training & Consulting Group. Mr. Campos has 22 years of experience working in the field of Male Involvement, Fatherhood Development, Sexuality Education and Cultural Diversity. He is a nationally recognized trainer and keynote speaker and has provided training and technical assistance in Mexico, the Caribbean and South Pacific Islands. For twelve years he was a Project Coordinator/Training Specialist at ETR Associates where he provided training and technical assistance to the 25 Male Involvement and Fatherhood Projects funded by the California Department of Health and Human Services.

Joan Garrity has been an independent trainer, writer and consultant for over 20 years. Along with facilitating as many as two dozen HIV prevention counseling workshops each year to providers in Maryland alone, she deliver trainings on counseling and communication skills throughout the United States and internationally in a wide variety of settings, including medical schools, substance abuse treatment programs, reproductive health clinics and HIV prevention and treatment programs. Ms. Garrity has held positions as the Director of Counseling for Planned Parenthood of Maryland and the Director of Education and Training for the Center for Population Options – now known as Advocates for Youth.

Wayne V. Pawlowski, ACSW, LICSW is an independent consultant, trainer and clinical social worker based in South Florida and the Washington, DC area, with over 20 years in sexuality education, reproductive health and family planning. Mr. Pawlowski is a nationally and internationally recognized sexuality/reproductive health/family planning trainer and educator, having provided training in 49 of the 50 United States as well as in 13 nations. Previously, he was Planned Parenthood Federation of America's first and only Director of Training. Prior to joining PPFA he served as the Director of Training for Planned Parenthood of Metropolitan Washington D.C. for ten years.

Ira Sengupta is the Executive Director of the Cross Cultural Health Care Program and past director of the Cultural Competency Programs. She has developed and trained over 2,600 hours of trainings nationally and in cross cultural issues for health and social service providers in the past year alone. Ms. SenGupta conducts major cultural competency intuitional assessments and serves as a consultant for the HRSA Managed Care Technical Assistance Center. Ms. SenGupta has led several community-based research projects and serves on the National Committee for Cultural Competence and the Committee for the Development of Cultural Competence Curriculum and Training Modules for Primary Care Physicians.

Pamela Wilson, MSW is an independent program consultant and trainer. Since the early 80's she has helped a variety of organizations develop sexuality education programs for children, adolescents, and parents. She was the original author of the Preventing Adolescent Pregnancy Program for Girls Incorporated. Pam has also designed and implemented a range of training and technical assistance for practitioners who provide services to young fathers and low-income couples with children.